Wines of Italy on show

Vino in Piazza showcased Italy's finest wines. Here's a snapshot of the exhibitors and their offerings.

9 Cantine Povero

With 50 ha of certified organic vineyards located in Cisterna d'Asti, Piemonte, Cantine Povero produces a wide range of wines, from Barbera and Barolo to Arneis and Moscato d'Asti. Standouts include Contrada Maestra Barbera d'Asti 2020, which export and marketing manager Lucrezia Povero says is the "most authentic expression of Barbera". The Langhe Cabanè 2017 blends the full-bodied structure of Cabernet Sauvignon, fruity notes of Barbera, and elegance and complexity of Nebbiolo. "This is the first international blend from the Povero stable, and was born from the desire to express the savoir-faire of the winemaker and power of these varietals," she says.
